Wikimedia uses an enhanced version of Odoo for their personnel management – implemented by IT IS and also available for you as FOSS.

For immediate release: Landshut – 08. Juni 2018:

It's time to be independent while using software. We think, now there are the best chances to use alternatives to the well-known software companies because open source software is getting better and better.

Even big companies and non-profit organizations like Wikimedia Germany use the free and easy solution which was developed by many odoo developers worldwide. In this specialized application the personnel management like holiday tracking and time tracking is depicted with the Odoo solutions of IT IS. The whole solution is named "TicTac" by employees of Wikimedia because of the clock that is running while they are working their jobs. This solution will be briefly available for everyone on Github as an extension for Odoo. You can read more details of the project in the case study on https://www.itis-odoo.de/page/fallstudien-odoo

The Odoo community association (OCA) and IT IS want to convene Odoo pros to present the solution exclusively to you at the CeBIT on June 12th 2018 at 4 pm in room Heidelberg at the Convention Center at the CeBIT grounds.

See the experiences of Wikimedia and other references of the OCA and get introduced to the new product Odoo 11 enhanced at a personal meeting with IT IS, the OCA and many other Odoo pros at the CeBIT on June 12th, 2018.
